management and administration like concepts in the area of education have often been considered as rather second rate and consequently have been relegated to an inferior position behind the teaching function this has been true particularly in case of primary school where head teachers have been offered even less in the way of management training than their secondary colleagues what is often forgotten is that education whether at national or classroom level does not just happen but has to be carefully planned management should therefore be seen as individual from teaching the two must complement each other if the education process is to be a success in the present work thought provoking readings are compiled for the benefit of teachers and policy planners the entire information is gathered in five volumes namely primary school curriculum management of elementary school recruitment training of primary teachers evaluation in primary education management of teaching skills in primary schools the main focus of this book is the rapidly changing purpose and aims of primary education in the face of the introduction of the national curriculum and other recent legislation
